

Birmingham Co-operative Film Society presents: Inspiring Films 2nd Thursday of every month

THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING 10 DECEMBER 2015 (89 MINUTES)

Inspired by Naomi Klein's international bestseller of the same name, seven powerful portraits portray communities on the front line of tackling a changing climate. Interwoven within the stories is an emerging chance to transform our failed economic system into something radically better. Plus post screening discussion with Birmingham Friends of the Earth.

PRIDE 14 JANUARY 2016 (120 MINS)

Realising that they share common foes in Margaret Thatcher, the police and the conservative press, London-based gays and lesbians decide to lend their support to striking coal miners in 1984 Wales.

ONE ROGUE REPORTER 11 FEBRUARY 2016 (61 MINS)

Recovering tabloid hack Rich Peppiatt delivers a mercilessly satirical dissection of his former trade by turning the tables on unscrupulous newspaper bosses. Through a series of daringly mischievous stunts and interviews with heavyweights of journalism, film, comedy and politics, Peppiatt hilariously exposes the hypocrisy at the heart of modern journalism.

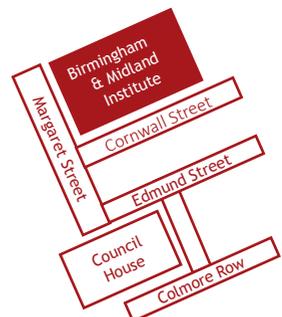

Doors 6.30pm Film 7pm

Central England Co-operative Members' Hall
The Birmingham & Midland Institute
9 Margaret Street
Birmingham, B3 3BS

Tickets £5 (£3 members)

 @justfilmcoop #flapjacktivist  'Just Film for a Fairer World'

Birmingham Co-operative Film Society presents: Inspiring Films 2nd Thursday of every month

CASABLANCA CALLING 10 MARCH 2016 (70 MINS)

Follow three exceptional women as they become the first female religious leaders in Morocco. Offering advice and guidance in mosques, schools, prisons and orphanages around the country, they teach an Islam of tolerance, compassion and equality. This screening celebrates International Women's Day 2016 #womensday.

LA COUR DE BABEL 14 APRIL 2016 (94 MINS)

How to integrate into French society when you are a young immigrant newly arrived in Paris? Join pupils at the school of La Grange aux Belles where they improve their French and gradually adapt to the French culture.

Doors 6.30pm Film 7pm

Central England Co-operative Members' Hall
The Birmingham & Midland Institute
9 Margaret Street
Birmingham, B3 3BS

Tickets £5 (£3 members)

Membership is open to individuals and like-minded organisations. Individual membership £12 per year and includes free entrance to one film screening, a vote on film choice and discounted entry to all other films.

 @justfilmcoop

 'Just Film for a Fairer World'

